SENTENCING CHART FOR FELONIES
COMMITTED ON OR AFTER 5:00 p.m., AUGUST 11, 2000^{1/}

ARRANGED IN ALPHABETICAL ORDER WITH PARALLEL CITES

This is designed as a quick reference for ascertaining the sentencing guideline group, the maximum prison sentence and amount of supervised release the judge may/must impose initially under the Sentencing Reform Amendment Act of 2000. In some cases, the maximum sentence will depend on factors set forth in the statute. Please refer to the statute.

ABBREVIATIONS:

“*”	means that an offense is designated as a Class A felony.
“M”	in the minimum column means mandatory minimum.
"= to SOR"	means that the judge may impose a greater term of supervised release up to the maximum period of sex offender registration to which a sex offender is subject (ten years or life).
“not < [less than] X years”	has been construed to mean that if the judge imposes a sentence of imprisonment, he or she cannot impose a sentence of less than X years. Nevertheless, the judge need not impose any prison time and can impose a sentence of X years or more and suspend execution of part of it in order to achieve the sentence the judge thinks is appropriate. In other words, although it may sound like a mandatory minimum, it has not been construed as such.
“(30/40/60 years)”	that appears under “LWOR” [life without release] for several offenses and under “40 years” for carjacking means that, the judge cannot impose a sentence in excess of the number in parentheses unless the jury finds an aggravating circumstance beyond a reasonable doubt. See Apprendi v. New Jersey.
“same term/fine”	means the same term or fine as the underlying offense.
“x the term/fine”	means the preceding number times the term or fine for the underlying offense
“^”	Special range applies. See Offense severity level for underlying crime. Adjust recommended sentence range per instructions in the Sentencing Guideline manual, Enhanced Penalty section.

Revised April 2004

^{1/} The Sentencing Reform Act did not go into effect until 4:59 p.m., August 11, 2000 although by its terms it was to go into effect at 12:01 a.m., August 5,2000. If the defendant does not assert an ex post facto challenge to being sentenced under the new law this chart may be used for any offense which occurred on or after August 5, 2000.
